Protecting What Matters for the Healthcare Industry

Workplace Violence Prevention Program Development

Create a master workplace violence prevention program plan based on a comprehensive needs assessment drawing on expertise in threat assessment, psychology, mental health, law enforcement, privacy regulations and related legal issues. Gain clear, actionable guidance on areas ranging from core operational policies, practices, compliance, privacy, reporting issues and an incident tracking system to the formation of a cross-functional, multidisciplinary threat assessment team.

Workplace Violence Prevention Training

Focus on awareness as the first line of defense. Emphasize reporting protocols. Deliver distinct curriculum for specific audiences: general workforce, managers and Threat Assessment Team members.

Active Shooter Awareness and Response Training

Empower employees to think through their actions and use strengths and skills to step up to the demands of making life-saving decisions in what may only be minutes or even seconds. Improve your overall readiness and resiliency in addressing the risks of targeted violence.

Providing Insight.
Delivering Assurance.

INTERESTS

REPUTATION

Behavioral Threat Assessment and Management

Uncover critical information and initial insights on the likely level of violence risk and recommendations on how to handle the case internally, proceed with a formal behavioral threat assessment or escalate to intervention.

Open Source Intelligence and Threat Monitoring

Conduct open source monitoring and threat detection to ensure protection for your healthcare organization and key assets. Monitor for threats against administrators, physicians, staff and facilities as well as early warnings for contentious issues.

Emergency Preparedness

Create a comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (EMP) for your healthcare facility. Then customize a detailed Active Assailant Response Plan in close alignment with the EMP, industry best practices and first-responder protocols.

Crisis Management Planning

Prepare for all types of security incidents by developing a Crisis Management Plan and conducting liaison in advance with third-party security, intelligence and emergency response resources.

Risk, Threat and Vulnerability Assessment

Understand the greatest risks to your facilities with respect to people, property and key operations – and then identify the best opportunities to manage them.

Security Operations Assessment

Gain independent, expert insights on critical gaps in current facility security operations. Establish best practices and develop a prioritized set of recommendations to address them.

Due Diligence Investigations

Uncover timely and critical information when selecting candidates for positions of trust and authority or before proceeding with key investments, strategic partnerships or dispute negotiations.
